

Keying Principles

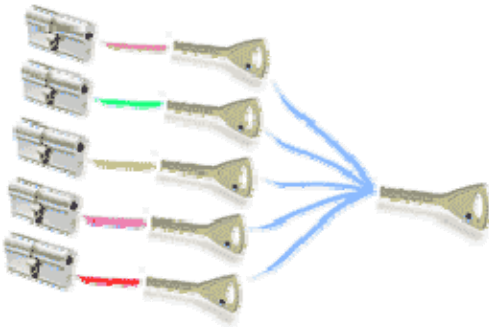

Keyed alike -
one key opens many locks.

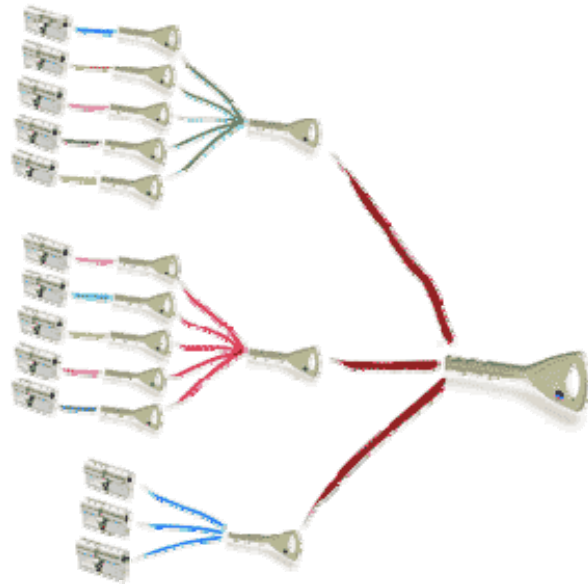

Keyed to differ -
each key opens only one lock.

Central locking -
many keys open the same lock.

Masterkeying -
each key opens only one lock, and there is a masterkey to open all the locks.

Grand Masterkeying -
a grand system of many masterkeyed systems.
It may also have keyed alike and central locking components.